MAKE MARRIAGE SAFE

Perhaps speeches in the legislature will prevent young men and women from making a hasty and winding up in the divorce court, but the chances are they won't.

The members of the legislature will spend their time devising measures to make marriage economically safe, rather than advising young folks to get out of the single life poverty and unemployment drive them.

In the absence of an opportunity to find a home and make a success of the enterprise, the only safe way to get out of the single life is to get married. It is a fact that married couples will be broken up later on by a divorce.

NOT YET, BUT SOON

On the question of reducing freight rates on grain shipped from the prairies to British Columbia for consumption there, the House of Commons divided 44 to 45, the motion being lost.

For the time that is discouraging news, alike for prairie farmers and for stock-growers at the Coast.

The important fact is that all the Liberals and Farmer members in the House at the time, and one Conservative, voted for the motion. This means that the motion was down as soon as the Liberals and the farmer which voted with them can muster a majority in parliament.

That will be the first time in the first session of the new parliament which, fortunately, must be held this summer.

A year from now shipping west and coast grain from prairie to British Columbia will be a legitimate and commercially possible business; not, as now, an economic offense discouraged and penalized by double-freight rates.

HIGH PRICES KILL SALES

According to advance press notices sent out from Ottawa, the report of the Mass Buying Commission is that the attitude in the distribution of goods is a way to make everybody happy except the consumer, who happens to be "all of it."

How to raise prices without increasing buying power was the particular method of restoration to which the majority is represented to have devoted its attention.

With what result, will be a matter of casual remark when the next election comes. But the fact that the majority is represented to have devoted its attention to the question of raising prices without increasing buying power simply kills business; and that this process of cause and effect has run true to form during the depression years.

Every attempt at a general price boost has ended in business depression, and the prices in general have increased as the demand has fallen, and the rate at which sales were dropping.

FIGHTING THE WIND

It is hardly possible that all farmers will approve the bill introduced in the legislature by the Minister of Agriculture with a view to the stoppage of soil drifting. Not every farmer will use his hand in any way that may want to. In the case, as in the other, there is involved a measure of interference with individual liberty, in the case of the wind, there is involved a measure of interference with individual property.

Whether the methods of farming prescribed in the bill are such as to meet the case against wind drifting, or whether the bill is a measure of interference with individual liberty, in the case of the wind, there is involved a measure of interference with individual property.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

The iconoclastic Mithras, with power in his control that Mayor "George" McGeer, has laid implicit hands on the power contracts that his predecessor in office believed they had safely tucked away in the pockets of the people of Ontario. He has cancelled contracts with four Quebec power companies which obligated Ontario to purchase 72,000 horse power annually for forty years that the Ontario power-owners have been unable to meet.

It will mean a saving to the Ontario treasury of $25,000,000 during the next forty years.

At once the cry of "sanctity of contract" has been raised. The Ontario power-owners have been unable to meet the terms of the contract.

Understanding A Blood Report

Many people go to clinics and laboratories for blood tests, then, when they get the report, find that it is so much "Greek" to them. Having received several such reports within the past few months with requests for explanations, I thought it will give a general idea of them this article.

I do not encourage anyone to try to diagnose his own trouble from a blood report for the reason that a correct interpretation depends upon many years of experience backed up by training.

Nevertheless, I know many of you are curious about the terms used, so I will explain them.

Dr. F. McCoy First, I will give you the facts about healthy blood taken from a normal man. The number of red blood cells will be about 5,000,000 per cubic millimeter of blood, and the white blood cells will be about 6,500 per cubic millimeter. The amount of red blood cells will range within the normal size and shape. The white cells will show a preponderance of polymorphs at the rate of seven out of every ten. About the only difference between these figures for a man and those of a healthy woman is that the woman's red cells may be from 100,000 to 200,000 less than the 5,000,000 per cubic millimeter.

A lack of sufficient red blood cells indicated anemia. The anemia may be due to a number of other conditions. A low red cell count accompanied by an increased white cell count may be found in any condition where pure pus is being poured over a period of time. An increase in the red cells may be found under certain conditions.

White blood cell decrease usually indicates a fall in resistance. The white blood cells are thought to be scavengers in the body which destroy invading germs and bacteria. An increase in the white blood cells is usually a sign of infection such as pneumonia, sinus trouble, appendicitis, etc. If the body has been successful in building a wall or capsule around the affected area so that the germs do not drain into the system no increase may be noted.

Hemoglobin is the coloring matter in the red blood cells. The hemoglobin contains iron and enables the blood to convey oxygen from the lungs to the tissues of the body. Hemoglobin is commonly found in the blood of animals, and may be found from 50 per cent to 60 per cent of the normal.

Normal blood contains a normal amount of white and red blood cells which may be found increased and decreased in various disorders. Two of the most common are leukemia and lymphoma, which are white blood cell diseases, and anemia, which is a red blood cell disease.

Yes, one of the best things I can tell you to do is to get a sample of your blood studied under a microscope. A laboratory report is normal if you are indeed fortunate; if it is not normal do something about it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
QUESTION: Mr. B. M. O. inquires: "What makes my eyes look tired and sleepy?"
ANSWER: The chief cause of eye strain is due to the eyes being overworked. Do not abuse the eyes by reading late at night, see that you have a good light while doing close work, and do not strain the eyes. You may have the eyes examined to see if you need glasses.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book "The Fast Way to Health" gives you the means of health in plain, simple, common sense, self-correcting methods. ## GOVT. TARDY ON FEED RELIEF

"HODLEY, April 10.—Farmers in this district are complaining about the way in which the feed situation is being handled by the provincial government. Many farmers are completely out of hay and straw and have made the trip to Hodley for expected feed every day, finding that promised supplies have not arrived. If relief is not soon obtained it is said many farmers will be unable to do their seeding for lack of feed for the horses.

On Tuesday, March 26, a Mr. McEwen from the department of agriculture was in Hodley receiving applications from farmers who were in need of hay for feed or grain for seed. The supplies were to be shipped in on Friday, March 29 but to date none have been received. There is still more than a foot of snow on the ground.

Hollywood Gossip

AN outstanding figure in the legitimate stage for the last decade, Helen Gahagan finally has turned her talents to the screen. And she's extremely enthusiastic about her new venture. In fact, Mrs. Gahagan, who is credited as Mrs. Melvyn Douglas, is enthusiastic about the picture, "The Sign of the Cross," being a one of her major credits. "It's a thing don't excite her, she says it."

"I don't think matters a bit what her profession was so long as we tackle our jobs with enthusiasm," remarked the actress between bits of lunch, consisting of soft-boiled eggs, whole wheat toast and coffee. "That's the way I feel about my job. My father very definitely would want him to be in the work. But I don't care what he is so long as he is vitally interested in the work he's doing."

"I believe I'm about a month-old son's laughter floated through the window from the street where the lawn stories below. Her blue eyes fairly glowed with pride at the sound of his voice. Helen dashed to the window to wave to the young man.

Even at first meeting there was something about her face which gave her the feeling that she would not be at all offended if she were to address her by her first name.

Her perfect relaxation as she sat on the yellow davenport, her manner of speech and her little gestures all combined to create an air of complete friendliness. Yet there was a certain reserve about her which was not to be broken.

PSYCHIATRISTS FOR PRISONS DON'T AGREE

By THOS. WATLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
OTTAWA, April 10.—(Presswire)—To appoint psychiatrists to Canadian penitentiaries do not command themselves to J. R. G. St. Pierre Hughes, former superintendent of penitentiaries for 20 years in the penitentiary service. "No two psychiatrists ever agree," said Gen. Hughes. "Look at the Vermilion case. A group of psychiatrists say he's crazy and then another group say he's not. We've had that same sort of thing in the penitentiaries and I'm afraid my experience does not command them."

ROGERS CASE
"There was the Leo Rogers case. He came to Kingston with 27 convictions. He tried to murder a guard and make his escape and also made a brutal assault on Inspector Duncan when he had asked to see him. "Two psychiatrists examined him and swore he was insane but Dr. Ryan and another psychiatrist swore he was not insane. He was given sentences of 10 to 15 years. Dr. Ryan had occasion to see other prisoners and as he passed Rogers left the convict ground and said: 'I couldn't fool you, could I, Dr. Ryan?'"

WARRIORS BY BILL LEWIS

This would be a good time to send up a great, big cheer for Tommy Gorman and his Montreal Maroons. Or, maybe, you'd do that already. Maybe, even, you don't feel that way about Maroons. If not, you're truly full of the cheering spirit and do your share of the cheering. Anyway, whatever your feelings regarding the outcome of the series, there is no doubt about the Maroons deserving a lot of credit for their feat in winning the famous Stanley Cup in three straight games.

Any team that is able to humble the Toronto Maple Leafs three times in a row and make it like it deserves everything that's coming their way. If you'd asked me of thousands all over Canada, before the series opened, they'd have told you the Maroons were unlikely to win. But it turned out to be anything but close the other way around.

A lot of big-league hockey players felt it was the Leafs' turn to win this time. In the best game, there was too much power in the strong red line from Montreal for the Toronto squad to handle.

To Tommy Gorman must go a lot of credit for giving Montreal its championship and the famous trophy donated by Lord Stanley back in 1892. What makes it more satisfactory for the former Ottawa sports writer is the fact that he went to Maroons only this time after winning with Chicago Blackhawks last year. Few managers could lay claim to a record like that.

But there's a lot of credit to be passed around to his players. It was they who pulled it off to be the greatest powerhouse in ice rinks today in winning the three games.

Tonight, down in Halifax, Montreal Maroons will be expected to have a repeat of the Eastern finals, and it's impossible to think of the former Ottawa sports writer with whom the right to move further in the "Stanley Cup" final. A win or tie will put Maroons in the "Stanley Cup" final. The Maroons will extend the series to another game.

Couch J. Peter Page and his Commercial Grade are expected to set for Saturday night when they open their Western Canada final basketball series against Vancouver Province girls. It will be the first real opportunity for local fans to see the new edition of the Grade in action and the game should attract plenty of interest.

More than 50,000,000 wood ties are used annually by the railroads of the United States. There are about 3,000 ties to the mile.

ALEX CONNELL SHARES HONOR WITH GORMAN

Came Out of Retirement To Help Maroons in Winning Title

By BILL LEWIS

Perched atop the hockey world today, alongside the ubiquitous effervescent Thomas Patrick Gorman, smiling manager of the world champions and Stanley Cup holders, the Montreal Maroons, is slim Alex Connell, a former pro who came out of retirement to help his old team win the Stanley Cup in three straight games.

Any team that is able to humble the Toronto Maple Leafs three times in a row and make it like it deserves everything that's coming their way. If you'd asked me of thousands all over Canada, before the series opened, they'd have told you the Maroons were unlikely to win. But it turned out to be anything but close the other way around.

Montrealers Capture Stanley Cup By Beating Leafs Three Straight

Redmen Sweep To Victory By Margin Of 4-1

By H. M. PETERS

FORUM, MONTREAL, April 10.—The Stanley Cup returned to Montreal last night, on the crest of a 4-1 victory by Montreal Maroons in a fighting, bruising display of hockey that turned back Toronto Maple Leafs for the third successive game.

Marion Westworth was hailed as the hero of the series and Manager Tommy Gorman as one of the greatest managers of all time. Maroons swept the Leafs in three straight games, a feat that has not been accomplished since 1917.

The Leafs, who had won the first two games, were defeated in the third by a 4-1 margin. The Maroons' goal was scored by Alex Connell, who came out of retirement to help his old team.

The Leafs' goal was scored by Gus Marker, who had been a key player in the first two games. The Maroons' defense was solid, and the Leafs' attack was weak.

The Maroons' victory was a triumph for Manager Tommy Gorman, who had led the team to the Stanley Cup in 1934. The Leafs' defeat was a setback for Manager Charlie Conacher, who had led the team to the Stanley Cup in 1933.

The Maroons' victory was a triumph for the city of Montreal, which had been the home of the Stanley Cup for many years. The Leafs' defeat was a setback for the city of Toronto, which had been the home of the Stanley Cup for many years.

Tumult Reigns In Arena When Game Finishes

By WALLACE WARD

FORUM, MONTREAL, April 10.—The Forum was in tumult last night as Maroons skated slowly off the ice beneath a rowdy Stanley Cup home crowd of champions of the world.

Approximately 12,000 fans belatedly acclaimed the Maroons as the red panthers of the National Hockey League. The crowd was in a tumult last night as Maroons skated slowly off the ice beneath a rowdy Stanley Cup home crowd of champions of the world.

ROSS WHIPS WOODS TO EASILY RETAIN HIS PRESENT TITLE

Champion Shown Little Trouble—Woods Hurts Leg in Third

SEATTLE, April 10.—Barney Ross, of Chicago, easily defended his junior welterweight championship against Henry Woods, Yakima, Wash., negro, here last night, but the northwest boxer managed to stay the full route of 12 rounds despite a right leg injured when he was knocked down in the third stanza. Ross weighed 136½ pounds and Woods 137½.

Between 8,000 and 9,000 fans packed the civic auditorium to see the first world championship fight ever held in this city. Ross was cheered by his fans and was managing to last all the way, although having 11 pugilists, through four rounds before he seemed to get his bearings again. After two slow rounds during which both boys were in a bare other out, Ross opened up with a barrage, smacking a right to the negro's jaw which sent Woods sprawling to the canvas.

TAKES NINE-COUNT

Ross took a count of nine and shuffled narrowly out of danger until the bell.

As he went to his corner, Woods limped badly, holding on to his right leg. Referee Tommy McCarthy told him that was wrong and Woods said he thought he had sprained his leg when he was knocked down.

He tried to walk around the ring and then sat down. McCarthy told Woods he would have to continue, but the fight could not be called off. The negro drew big applause as he came out for the fourth round.

Ross rose in with both fists in an attempt to finish the bout but Woods heaped and spun on one leg and weaved and ducked out of range, keeping away from the barbed lion.

HE'S OKAY AGAIN

Woods went down again in the eighth round for an instant but was more of a slip than a blow that sent him to the canvas.

Ross worked on Woods through the last four rounds and had taken virtually all the fight out of the negro by the time the match was over.

The champion appeared to take it easy several times during the bout, but whenever he opened up he ripped Woods all over the ring.

NORTH DOG DERBY HAS HOT FINISH

Two Minutes Separates Leaders in 125-Mile Cross Country Run

PORT ST. JOHN, N.C., April 10.—One of the most exciting events in Port St. John history was the 125-mile dog derby run between this post and Hudson Hope, finishing shortly before 5 p.m. Sunday.

At the start of a grueling run of 18 hours and 56 minutes, Jimmy Woods, a 125-pound dog, was two minutes' lead on his next competitor, but he lost some time when his dog stopped just short of the finish line.

Third place was won by Ross (Lion), who was about 35 minutes behind Woods. There was just two hours between first and fifth winners. The sixth winner, Allen Hunter, from Taylor Park, had a winning trail and had not appeared last night.

When it was learned by telephone and telegram that the race was a large crowd gathered at the finish line. The first three teams appeared in sight about two miles up the road and spectators as to which was in the lead could not determine. Fourth finisher was Len Parsons, and fifth, Ray Parsons.

Clarence Crabbe Will Compete In National Swims

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—Clarence Crabbe, Olympic Games 400-metre free-style record holder and winner of the event in 1932, announced Tuesday he plans to compete in the 15-mile Canadian National Exhibition swim in September at Toronto.

Crabbe, who was 23 minutes and 40 seconds in the 15-mile swim at the 1932 Olympics, said he was in good shape to compete in the event.

Coach J. Peter Page and his Commercial Grade are expected to set for Saturday night when they open their Western Canada final basketball series against Vancouver Province girls. It will be the first real opportunity for local fans to see the new edition of the Grade in action and the game should attract plenty of interest.

More than 50,000,000 wood ties are used annually by the railroads of the United States. There are about 3,000 ties to the mile.

The Play In Detail

First Period

The speeding figure of Burr Bell burst down the right hand boards for the first shot on goal. Happy Day kept Robinson with a steady bodycheck on the return rush.

Buster Jackson ended Jimmy Ward enough for a living end from the Maroons, who came headed, from the Maroons' goal. The Leafs' goal was scored by Gus Marker, who had been a key player in the first two games.

Second Period

Maroons fans lost a heart beat as Jimmy Ward scored a goal. Ward scored a goal for the Leafs, but the Maroons' defense was solid, and the Leafs' attack was weak.

Third Period

Maroons scored their third goal in a furious attack on the third period. The Leafs' defense was weak, and the Maroons' attack was strong.
